

There are a lot of factors to consider in any national health care reform equation.

The skyrocketing cost of health care is hurting all Americans, young and old alike. The Congress now has a historic opportunity to help the uninsured and make the following changes to strengthen the Medicare program:

- ✓ Eliminate Medicare Advantage subsidies
- ✓ Authorize government negotiation of drug prices
- ✓ Close the Part D doughnut hole
- ✓ Limit seniors' out-of-pocket costs

Anything less just doesn't add up for Medicare's 45 million beneficiaries.
